Evans AVIS Speed Camera Corridors Officially Designated on Oct. 9

Have you seen signs like the one in the above photo around the city? If so, you are in a designated AVIS speed enforcement corridor.

The City of Evans formally established the locations designated for its Automated Vehicle Identification System (AVIS) speed enforcement program on October 9, 2026.

The program will include one fixed camera location and four corridors where the mobile speed camera unit may be deployed.

Fixed Camera Location:

- 37th Street and Palermo Avenue

Mobile Camera Corridors:

- 37th Street – 65th Avenue to Highway 85
- 42nd Street/Prairie View Drive – 35th Avenue to Highway 85
- 35th Avenue – North city limits to 49th Street
- 11th Avenue – Highway 34 to 37th Street

The October 9 designation marks the beginning of the required 30-day advance public notice period. Following this period, cameras will begin operating with a 35-day warning period. During the warning period, drivers exceeding the speed limit may receive warning notices, but no citations or fines will be assessed.

The Evans Police Department will publish on the city website and social media channels the locations of the moblie AVIS unit each time it is moved to a new location within one of the designated corridors. The City of Evans is committed to following all relevant state law and operating speed cameras in a transparent manner. Please see page 4 for more.

2026 Street Maintenance Projects Underway Across Evans

The locations where work will be done are as follows:

- 17th Avenue – 37th Street to 42nd Street

Evans City Council Approves 2027 Operating and Capital Budget by Unanimous Vote

The City of Evans' 2027 Budget focuses on advancing community priorities while responsibly managing public resources and preparing for long-term needs. The budget reflects City Council's commitment to infrastructure, economic development and reliable municipal services through careful financial planning.

A key priority is long-term infrastructure management. Evans continues investing in streets, utilities, parks, drainage systems and public facilities while emphasizing proactive maintenance to address aging infrastructure and reduce costly emergency repairs.
Transportation and utility improvements support residential and commercial growth. Investments in major corridors, water, wastewater and stormwater systems will help accommodate future development while maintaining dependable services. These improvements also support business attraction, job creation and expanded access to goods and services.

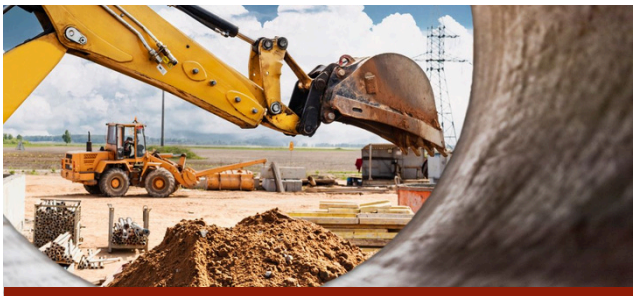

Economic development remains a priority through business recruitment and retention, partnerships and targeted incentives that provide measurable public benefits. The City emphasizes financially sustainable growth, with new development contributing to necessary infrastructure and services.

The budget also prioritizes essential services, including public safety, streets, parks and recreation, and utilities, while addressing rising costs and community growth.
Financial stewardship remains central through maintaining reserves, conservative revenue projections and strategic investments. Evans will continue balancing immediate community needs with long-term financial stability and sustainable growth.

Recycle your campaign signs

Our friends at WM, formerly Waste Management, have asked us to share news with the community that corrugated plastic political campaign signs are perfectly acceptable to be placed in your recycle bin. Please place metal sign stands in the trash or dispose of in another way such as a metal recycle service provider in the area. Now that the campaigns are over and the ballots counted, please recycle your yard signs.

New Evans Police Station officially open!

Carrying the torch for Special Olympics

Evans PD had the honor of carrying the Special Olympics Torch through our community as part of the Law Enforcement Torch Run for Special Olympics Colorado.

From the starting line at 23rd Avenue and 34th Street, through our neighborhoods, past Dos Rios, Chappelow, Centennial, and Union Colony, through the Evans Community Complex, and by our new police department, we were met by students, school staff, community members, and supporters cheering us on along the way. Seeing our Evans students waving, cheering, and even joining us for parts of the run was one of the highlights of the morning!

A huge thank you to all of the Evans PD officers, SWAT team members, staff, volunteers, partner agencies, and community members who helped make the day such a success. We were proud to carry the torch through Evans and pass it along to our friends at UNC Police Department and Greeley Police Department.

We also want to give a special shoutout to Avery's Modern Teahouse for joining us at the ECC and helping make the morning extra special. Thank you to Domino's Pizza and Walmart for helping provide food and drinks for our runners and supporters. We truly appreciate everyone who helped make this event possible!

Most importantly, thank you to the athletes of Special Olympics Colorado for giving us the opportunity to be your Guardians of the Flame.

Evans Police joins Centennial Elementary students for annual Coats & Boots Day

We loved being part of Coats and Boots Day at Centennial Elementary on October 23!

A huge thank you to the Jireh Project, Pamela Sommer, and our generous sponsors — Sam's Club, Baesler Homes, the Moose Lodge, the Thorpes, and Walmart — for helping provide students with brand-new coats and boots for the winter season!

We're grateful to be part of such a caring community that continues to show up for our kids and families. Together, we're making a difference, one coat and one pair of boots at a time!

At Drug Take Back Day, 334 pounds of unwanted medications were turned in for safe disposal, helping keep our community safe and medications out of the wrong hands. Thank you to Shred Monster for partnering with us to provide secure document shredding and to everyone who helped make this event a success!

In October, Evans officers showed their support for Breast Cancer Awareness Month by wearing pink patches, pink badges, and pink undershirts.

It may be a small change to the uniform, but it represents something bigger — supporting the many members of our community whose lives have been touched by breast cancer, celebrating survivors, and remembering those we've lost.

Speed Camera Technology

AVIS Technology FAQs

AVIS: Automated Vehicle Identification System

Evans's fixed cameras and mobile trailer measure speed, document potential violations, and count traffic.

01 What is recorded?

Video and still images of vehicles and license plates. Visible exterior features include color, body style, and distinguishing characteristics. Cameras are directed at vehicles and plates, not intentionally at drivers or occupants. No audio is recorded.

02 What if I'm not speeding?

Passing vehicles appear in video. For vehicles not detected speeding, the system does not create a separate still image of the license plate. Evans's speed-enforcement system has no added ALPR functionality.

03 When may video be used?

Video is available for a limited period. Access must be lawful, authorized by department policy, and limited to what is reasonably necessary for investigations, contested-notice reviews, or other authorized official duties.

Evidence may be preserved for proceedings or other legal obligations.

04 Who can access it?

Direct AVIS access is restricted to authorized Evans Police personnel and service-provider personnel. Provider access must be lawful and limited to what is reasonably necessary for authorized services.

Evidence supporting confirmed violations is provided to the registered owner and, when necessary, court personnel. Other disclosures must comply with law and department policy.

05 What safeguards apply?

Access must be lawful, authorized by department policy, and serve an official purpose. Non-routine searches require specific documentation.

Access is subject to audit; available system activity logs are maintained.

Quarterly audits and annual reviews are required. Personal or curiosity searches are prohibited. Suspected misuse is handled through complaint and internal affairs procedures

06 How can I challenge a violation?

Authorized department personnel review every potential speeding violation before a notice is issued.

Recipients may request administrative review and then a court hearing.

Ballot Measure 2C

November 3, 2026 Election

Proposed changes to how existing food sales tax revenue may be used.

No change to the current food sales tax rate or taxable purchases.

The existing tax rate would remain the same, and the same taxable purchases would apply.

WHAT WOULD STAY THE SAME?

Tax rate and taxable purchases
The current food sales tax rate would not change, and the same taxable purchases would apply.

Existing authorized uses
All currently authorized uses would remain in place.

WHAT WOULD BE ADDED IF APPROVED?

Economic development incentives
Performance-based incentives could return a portion of new sales tax revenue generated by a qualifying business or project to that business for a specified amount and time to help offset infrastructure and development costs. Each potential project would be evaluated by the community benefit it provides and would require separate, project-specific City Council approval.

Operations and maintenance
Funding to operate, maintain and repair eligible City facilities and improvements.

WHAT LIMITS WOULD REMAIN?

- Revenue could be used only for voter-authorized purposes, with spending approved through the City Council budget process.
- Maintaining previously financed public improvements, including the police facility, remains the first priority stated in the ballot question.

IF APPROVED

- The two proposed uses are added.
- The existing tax continues at its current rate.

IF NOT APPROVED

- Current authorized uses remain unchanged.
- The existing tax continues at its current rate.

NOVEMBER 3, 2026 COORDINATED ELECTION—Ballot Measure 2C

Existing Food Sales Tax — Proposed Use Amendment

NO NEW TAX | NO TAX RATE INCREASE

The question is whether to expand how existing food tax revenue may be used. The tax rate and the purchases subject to the tax would not change.

What is being asked?

Voters are being asked whether to add two permitted uses for the City's existing food sales tax revenue. All current voter-approved uses would continue.

TODAY — CURRENT AUTHORIZED USES	IF APPROVED — TWO USES WOULD BE ADDED
• Capital Improvements to parks and recreation facilities, trails and walkways, streets, bridges, and traffic control improvements • Police station — design, construction, equipment and maintenance	• Performance-based economic development incentives • Operations that support and sustain eligible City facilities and improvements Existing voter-approved uses would remain authorized.

Details on the proposed uses

Economic development incentives

Council's current intent is to prioritize previously authorized uses and consider incentives when additional funding is available, taking existing budget commitments into account.

- Council intends to emphasize performance-based, pay-as-you-go incentives when appropriate.
- Under a pay-as-you-go arrangement, payments may be calculated as a portion of new revenue generated by a project after agreed-upon performance requirements are met.
- Each incentive would require City Council approval of its funding terms and performance requirements.

Operations & maintenance

Proposed intent: allow revenue to help maintain, operate, repair and sustain facilities and improvements already within voter-authorized purposes.

- Parks and recreation facility maintenance.
- Trail and walkway maintenance.
- Street and bridge maintenance and repairs.
- Traffic-control equipment maintenance.
- Utilities associated with eligible facilities.
- Equipment, materials, supplies, preventative maintenance and contracted maintenance or repair services.

What oversight and limits would remain?

- The food tax revenue would not become unrestricted General Fund revenue; it could only be used for voter-authorized purposes.
- Eligible expenditures would still be approved and appropriated by City Council through the normal budget process.
- Economic development incentives would receive separate, project-specific Council consideration and approval.
- Previously authorized uses would continue, and maintaining previously financed public improvements, including the police facility, remains the first priority stated in the ballot question.
- The companion resolution states the current Council's policy intent. It does not impose additional legal restrictions on voter-authorized uses or bind future councils.

IF VOTERS APPROVE:	IF VOTERS DO NOT APPROVE:
the two proposed uses are added; the existing tax continues at the current rate.	current authorized uses remain unchanged; the existing tax continues at the current rate.

"Food for domestic consumption" generally means groceries and similar food products for preparation or consumption at home. The amendment would not change which products are taxed.

Existing Food Sales Tax—Proposed Use Amendment

Frequently Asked Questions – Ballot Measure 2C

1. Voter Approval vs. Council Approval

Question:

Is it correct that voters are being asked to approve two additional categories for which the food tax revenue could be used, but after that, City Council would have the authority to approve specific expenditures within those categories through the normal budget process?

Answer:

Yes. Voters are being asked whether existing food tax revenue may be used for two additional purposes identified in the ballot question. Approval would authorize those uses; it would not approve a specific project, incentive, or expenditure.

If approved, City Council would consider expenditures within the voter-authorized purposes through the City's budget process. Individual expenditures within those purposes would not require separate voter approval.

Any proposed economic development incentive would require separate Council consideration and approval of its specific terms.

Voters decide the allowable uses of the revenue. City Council decides whether and how to allocate that revenue within those uses.

2. Economic Development Incentives

Question:

What are real-world examples of using the food tax for a "performance-based economic development incentive?" For example, if we were trying to attract a major retailer or other commercial development to Evans, what might an incentive actually look like? Would existing food tax dollars potentially be used toward that incentive, or would an incentive only be paid from new revenue generated by the project?

Answer:

Performance-based incentives are a type of economic development incentive in which a business receives payments after meeting performance expectations established in an agreement approved by City Council. Under a pay-as-you-go arrangement, payments may be calculated as a portion of new sales tax revenue generated by the business over a specified period.

The City previously used this type of arrangement for Sam's Club. The business made its investment, opened, and generated sales tax revenue before receiving an agreed-upon share of that revenue. If the revenue was not generated, the City did not make the incentive payment.

In Resolution No. 28-2026, City Council expressed its current intent to prioritize previously authorized uses and consider incentives when additional funding is available, taking existing budget commitments into account. Council intends to emphasize performance-based, pay-as-you-go incentives when appropriate.

Each proposed incentive would require separate public consideration and Council approval. Council would evaluate the proposed funding terms, performance requirements, anticipated community benefit, and available funding before deciding whether to approve an agreement.

If voters approve the measure, staff would prepare proposed updates to the City's Economic Development Incentive Policy to establish criteria for using this revenue. The proposed updates would be presented to City Council for consideration before incentives are considered under the additional authority.

3. Operations That Support and Sustain City Facilities and Improvements

Question:

What specifically would fall under "operations that support and sustain City facilities and improvements?" What are some examples of things the City cannot use these funds for today that it would be able to use them for if this passes?

Answer:

The proposed additional use would allow food tax revenue to fund qualifying operating expenses associated with facilities and improvements covered by the voter-authorized purposes. Voter approval in 2002 allowed revenue generated by the food tax to be used for capital improvement projects to local park and recreation facilities, trails and walkways, streets, bridges, and traffic control improvements. In 2021, allowable uses were expanded to include financing the costs of designing, constructing, equipping, and maintaining a new city police station.

Today, the revenue is more limited in how it can be used, particularly for ongoing operating and maintenance costs. Examples of expenses that could qualify under the proposed operations use include the following. Some expenses, such as maintenance of the new police station, are already authorized.

- Parks and recreation facility maintenance;
- Trail and walkway maintenance;
- Street and bridge maintenance and repairs;
- Traffic-control equipment maintenance;
- Utilities associated with eligible City facilities;
- Equipment, materials, and supplies needed to maintain eligible facilities;
- Preventative maintenance; and
- Contracted maintenance and repair services.

Approval would broaden Council's authority to allocate food tax revenue to qualifying operating expenses. The revenue would remain restricted to voter-authorized purposes, and expenditures would be considered through the City's public budget and appropriation process.

4. Salaries and Personnel Costs

Question:

Could any of this revenue be used for City employee salaries, benefits, overtime, or other personnel costs?

Answer:

On September 15, 2026, City Council adopted Resolution No. 28-2026, expressing its intent that food tax revenue would not be used for City employee salaries, wages, benefits, overtime, or other City personnel costs.

Under the Council's intended approach, qualifying operational expenses would include equipment, materials, supplies, utilities, and contracted maintenance and repair services associated with eligible facilities and improvements.

The resolution states the current Council's policy intent. It does not establish an additional legal prohibition on voter-authorized uses or bind future city councils.

5. Limitations on Council

Question:

If voters authorize the two new categories, what limitations would there be on Council's determination of eligible expenditures?

Answer:

City Council would be required to allocate food tax revenue within the purposes authorized by voters. Approval would add two allowable uses while retaining existing voter-approved uses and restrictions. As described in the companion resolution, maintaining public improvements previously financed with food tax revenue would remain the City's first priority, as stated in the ballot question.

The City separately accounts for food tax revenue. Specific expenditures would be considered through the City's annual public budget and appropriation process. Each proposed economic development incentive would require separate City Council approval.

The companion resolution documents the current Council's intended implementation. It does not change the ballot question, impose additional legal restrictions on voter-authorized uses, authorize an expenditure, or bind future councils.

Council's expenditure decisions would remain subject to the ballot language, voter-approved restrictions, and applicable law. Approval would not make the revenue available for unrelated City expenses.

Building Bulletin

While homeowners are allowed to perform work on their own homes, contractors are utilized more often than not and have specific responsibilities throughout the permit process. Both homeowners and contractors should know these quick facts:

- Contractors must obtain a City of Evans business license through our Finance Department prior to submitting a permit application.
- Contractors must submit the application for the permit, including any required documents, via an online account in Citizenserve.
- Electricians and plumbers must include their State of Colorado license numbers when creating their Citizenserve account; a permit may be placed on hold if a valid license is not listed.
- The applicant/contractor must list all subcontractors on permit (subcontractors will need to create their own Citizenserve accounts in order to be added to permits).
- Contractors are required to request all inspections online through Citizenserve.
